Why Fiji is the ultimate conference & incentive destination

The people

Fiji is a land of uncompromising friendliness, where you are treated as an 'honoured' guest by the Fijian people. It is this incomparable level of genuine hospitality that makes Fiji the ideal destination for any meeting or incentive reward.

A choice of beautiful locations

Imagine holding a company meeting on a remote island in the South Pacific just for you and your group or a conference at one of Fiji's five star resorts offering all of Fiji's peace, beauty and tranquility plus the modern amenities and luxuries you desire. Or how about chartering a yacht for a four day conference and stopping to relax at one of Fiji's many deserted isles.

Accessibility

As Fiji is the hub of the South Pacific and the most popular holiday destination, many reasonable travel packages are available throughout the world

Frequency of flights

There are frequent flights to and from Fiji with our national airline, Air Pacific as well as Air New Zealand, Korean Air, Pacific Blue and Qantas.

The culture

Fiji is probably the only place on earth where you truly experience the perfect harmony between a land, its people and a culture that has remained virtually unchanged for centuries. The daily integration of these social and cultural traditions serve as a reminder that Fiji is more than an unspoiled tropical paradise, but a land where the past remains one of our most vibrant and precious national resources.

A range of activities

Each new day brings with it new and fascinating experiences. Hike through acres of lush tropical rainforest, dive into some of the most beautiful underwater scenery, visit a Fijian village, cruise the islands on a luxury schooner and bask in the soothing South Pacific sun on a secluded white beach.

Fantastic food

Dining in Fiji offers a multi-ethnic culinary experience. Whether dining at your hotel, island resort or 'in town', you'll find a palate painted by flavours from India, China, Korea, Japan, Europe and Americas as well as the best of Australia, New Zealand and the South Pacific.

Most hotels and resorts also offer specific culinary themed nights, "magiti" (Fijian feasts), beach or poolside BBQ's, as well as Fiji's best known and popular outdoor cooking experience, the 'lovo', an underground oven of heated rocks cooking a variety of foods wrapped in banana leaves.

Pristine environment

This land of natural beauty offers first-time travelers and discerning, high achievers a relaxing and extraordinary environment for your conference in the sun. Fiji conjures up images of uncharted and deserted isles, crystal clear azure lagoons and a dreamlike escape from the pressures of the world. As a meeting destination or incentive reward, this truly unique destination is enough to inspire anyone to push a little harder, move a little faster and reach a little higher.

The Regions of Fiji

Nadi – Ultimate Meetings

Nadi, the third largest city, is a 10 minute car ride from Nadi International Airport and serves as the 'gateway' to the rest of Fiji.

Driven by tourism, Nadi offers restaurants of every international flavour, curio shops for the passionate shopper and a focal point for the numerous stop-over hotels, nearby Denarau Island resorts, golf, tennis and cruise liners.

Area activities include shotover jet boat rides, highland trekking and viewing the beautiful orchids at the Garden of the Sleeping Giant.

Mamanucas – Perfect incentives

The Mamanuca Islands, immediately west of Nadi Bay and Viti Levu, are set amongst deep blue waters with coral reefs of turquoise and pastel green.

These islands, easily accessible by boat, plane and helicopter are the home to more than a dozen resorts, each on its own separate island.

The Mamanucas offer some of Fiji's most awesome beauty! Among the myriad of sports and cultural activity opportunities, these island waters boast excellent diving, snorkeling and wonderful sailing.

Coral Coast – Ultimate meetings

The Coral Coast area runs 100km (60 miles) across the southern coast of Viti Levu from Momi, 12 miles south of Nadi to Pacific Harbour.

The coastline offers a range of spectacular tropical scenery from “Caribbean” pine mountains cascading down to the shores, sugar cane fields, coral lagoons and seemingly endless beaches.

It is the home to some of Fiji’s most famous international-style resorts as well as extensive sightseeing opportunities such as Sigatoka’s sand dunes and expeditions into the hinterland.

The Coral Coast offers every activity imaginable, from river rafting or cruising to cave touring and authentic Fijian village tours.

Northern Islands – Perfect Incentives

The Northern Islands include Fiji's second and third largest islands, Vanua Levu and Taveuni, known as the "Garden Island" for its rich floral and rainforest habitat.

It also boasts of several smaller islands featuring some of Fiji's best diving and intimate resort getaways.

Accessible by plane or local ferries, northern resorts offer a real opportunity to interact more closely with the people and culture of Fiji and deliver a vacation experience that just doesn't exist anywhere else in the world.
