ghost inspired

“ Gravestones area a familiar sight at North Head with over 572 bodies buried here; the final resting place of many who suffered arduous journeys to Australia, on ships plagued by infectious disease. One hundred and fifty years of misfortune and untimely deaths have left behind many stories of pain, loss and suffering and the accompanying restless spirits which haunt the site today. Featured on TV shows including “Ghost Hunters International” and the supernatural horror movie “The Quarantine Hauntings”, Sydney’s Quarantine Station on North Head is one of Australia’s most haunted sites. An operational quarantine station from 1833 - 1984, stories of ghosts and paranormal occurrences began to be reported during this time. Ghost tours have operated here since the early 1990s. Sceptic or believer, family, friends or corporate, there is a tour for you! ”

WHO DUN IT?

The scene is set for your group to go back in time to the 1800s. The quarantine of the Samuel Plimsoll is nearing its end but events take an unexpected turn; a ghastly murder has occurred and will need to be solved before your group can be released from quarantine. Each member of your group will take on the role of a quarantined passenger or staff member. Together you will be taken to key locations as you search for clues to unravel the mystery - why, how and who dun it? This event follows a predetermined route and starts in the wharf area. Character information can be provided prior to your event for individuals to come prepared in costume or we will provide an assortment of accessories to complement your character on the day.

90 minutes (group of 24*) $1,200.00
