KEYNOTE SPEAKERS

Our expert team speak with a wealth of experience on a range of topics and can customise their presentation based on your theme.

LAYNE BEACHLEY

Layne Beachley is the most successful surfer in history and possesses a rare story-telling ability that inspires, entertains and transfers knowledge, in a way that is relatable to everyone, irrespective of their stage of life. Layne's openness and honesty about all the challenges she has faced and overcome makes her one of Australia's most sought after and impactful motivational speakers.

MARK MATTHEWS

As a highly sought after international speaker, Matthews' surfer chill vibe and magnetic charisma has graced the stages of leading companies worldwide. Obsessed with the relationship between personal growth, high performance and fulfilment, Matthews is on a mission: offer game changing ways to adapt to stress and increase wonder in the lives of others.

CHRIS MATER

Chris is the CEO of Surfing Australia and previously spent 19 years with Red Bull holding various positions in marketing, media and general management. While serving as Vice President of sports marketing North America, he led a team that managed 150 athletes, executed 200 Red Bull events, led brand partnerships and managed all of Red Bulls fun toys (planes, helicopters, event vehicles) each year.

ANDY KING

In 2004, an attack stripped aspiring surfer Andy King of his dreams. Skull fractures took his balance, his hearing and almost his life. Through this near death experience and rehab, Andy developed a hyper appreciation for the value of time. Now as an athlete's soldier, Andy wastes no time in asking the questions and delivering the facts. It's uncomfortable on both sides, it can hit hard, but it's the most efficient space for trust and growth.

NAM BALDWIN

A career spanning over 20 years, Nam has dedicated his life to learning & exchanging knowledge to assist others in reaching their mental & physical potential. Nams experience with World Champions, Olympic Gold Medallists, Elite Teams and Business Groups has seen him receive many accolades in the field of exercise science, psychology, emotional intelligence and applied kinesiology

BEDE DURBIDGE

In the final event of the 2015 WSL World Tour season at Pipeline, Bede suffered a horrific injury that nearly took his life. In his story of Advantage Adversity, he talks about his long road to recovery but also the amazing opportunities that arose along the way, that lead him to where he is now in his life - coaching the Australian Surfing Team in preparation for the 2020 Olympics in Tokyo.

PAST CLIENTS

Sharing the Stoke

DESIREE HURWOOD - PROGRESS RETAIL

“One of the best training rooms I’ve ever worked in. What added to the experience was how helpful all the staff were. We highly recommend the HPC if you need a training space.”

LEIGH BENNETT - TWEED TOURISM COMPANY

“The High Performance Centre has been an exceptional venue for the Tweed Tourism Co's Tourism Futures Leadership program. The meeting spaces are perfect for presentations, interactive break outs and group work, with fresh wholesome and always inspired catering which have kept our participants well nourished and buzzing about what might come out next. We highly commend the High Performance Centre and their enthusiastic team.”

MARK HUDSON - DRAGON ALLIANCE

“Our Sales Summit was extremely successfully with the HPC facility and it’s services contributing to this success. Coaching staff were fantastic at recognising the varied ability levels and accommodating accordingly, as were the administration staff in ensuring all requirements were delivered. The food was exceptional and rounded out our focus on personal improvement.”

Surfing Australia’s purpose is to create a healthier and happier Australia through surfing. As a not for profit organisation, we invest all revenue back in to the development of the sport and our Australian athletes.

We invite you to create a fully customised conference, event or meeting that will energise your team and help to achieve organisational goals.
